The Barrier Reef Orchestra is a leading institution of Orchestral Music in North Queensland. It offers opportunities for players of musical instruments to learn and develop skills in an orchestral environment through performing in concerts. The Barrier Reef Orchestra is in its 17th year of performing music. The orchestra is a community organisation consisting of the musicians drawn from Townsville and other locations in North Queensland

The Barrier Reef Orchestra is a product of North Queensland Ensembles Inc which is an Incorporated Association registered in the State of Queensland.

In the late nineties, Townsville musicians, arts workers and a group of people who had a love for music realised the potential for developing a community-based Orchestra. As a result, a weekend workshop was arranged in 2000 and musicians were invited to participate the result was the birth of the Barrier Reef Orchestra.

In a typical year the Barrier Reef Orchestra, under the auspices of North Queensland Ensembles Inc, performs three times generally with a guest conductor and occasionally with other performing groups. Smaller ensembles, all utilising players from the Orchestra, regularly give concerts — Orpheus Strings, Pandanus Winds, Kingfisher Trio, Centenary Concert Band and the Barrier Reef Chamber Orchestra.

During the next few years the Orchestra performed with the comedy-duo Scared Weird Little Guys in Score, Townsville City Council's Last Night of the Proms and A Christmas Carol.

The advancement of the Barrier Reef Orchestra has been profound over the years:
